Government Estimates 1936 Corn Crop Will Be Lowest Yield in 55 Years

Wallace and Other Officials Use Forecast as Yardstick in Proceeding Anew with Relief Plans; 30 Counties Added.

DROUTH TOUR

Corn Forecast is Over 800,000 Bushels Under Estimate of Month Earlier.

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP).—A government estimate that the 1936 corn crop will be the smallest in 55 years served as a guide today to federal relief moves in the drouth area.

The yield of 1,439,135,000 bushels, estimated by the crop reporting board late yesterday, is the lowest since 1881 when the population of the nation was only 50,155,000 as compared with more than 127,000,000 at present.

Secretary Wallace and other administration officials who had anxiously awaited the forecast immediately proceeded anew with relief plans.

Drouth relief officials added 30 more counties in seven states to the emergency list which now includes 259 counties in 22 states. Relief efforts are concentrated in these counties.

There was some speculation as to whether President Roosevelt might use his powers under the tariff act to reduce the 25 cent per bushel tariff on corn imports or eliminate it on specific purchases for drouth needs.

Drouth Tour

Another move included the forthcoming tour of nine states by the great plains drouth committee. Morris L. Cooke, chairman of the long range planning group named by the President, said the committee would leave the capital this week-end, and would start a motor tour from Texas next Tuesday.

The corn crop forecast, based on August 1 conditions, was more than 800,000 bushels under the estimate of a month earlier and more than a billion bushels less than average production between 1928 and 1932.

A smaller decline in the production of all wheat also was forecast in the broad report. Production this year was placed at 632,745,000 bushels compared to the July 1 estimate of 638,399,000 and the five year average of 863,564,000.

Declines in Yields

Coupled with the corn shrinkage were declines in forecasted yields of oats, barley and grain sorghum and other feed grains, so the total for the four classifications rated 42 percent below the 10 year average feed production from 1923 to 1932.

However, because of the reduced numbers of livestock that must be fed this fall and winter, the government experts said the "livestock feed situation was somewhat less serious than it was this time in 1934."

"Readjustments in numbers of livestock were termed necessary, however, with a heavy marketing of hogs predicted, because they need corn."

Some saw the possibility that the present emergency purchases of cattle by the government might be expanded to include hogs.

It is known that several million dollars could be obtained for emergency purchases from the 30 percent of customs receipts Congress set aside to aid agriculture.

Comparing estimated production of "important" crops this year with percentage of the five year average production from 1928 to 1932, the board's percentage estimates for 1935 included:

Corn, 56; winter wheat, 83; durum wheat, 17; other spring wheat, 56; oats, 64; barley, 52; rye, 71; buckwheat, 68; tame hay, 83; timothy hay, 65; dry beans, 86; Irish potatoes, 79; sweet potatoes, 100; tobacco, 84; sugar cane, 153; sugar beets, 105; total apples, 64; peaches, 58; pears, 192; total grapes, 82.

AL SMITH IS OMITTED FROM TAMMANY LIST

New York, Aug. 11 (AP).—The omission of former Governor Alfred E. Smith's name from the list of Tammany Hall delegates to the New York state Democratic convention in September, accompanied predictions by his associates today that he would not attend.

John T. Monahan, head of Tammany's law committee, announced last night that Smith's name was not included among the delegates. He declined to comment, as did his brother, James Doolittle, Tammany Hall leader.

Associate of the former governor said they could not say whether he would stay away from the convention, which will be held September 26 and 27 in Syracuse or Rochester, about a week in his political friends' view, in Governor Herbert H. Lehman's name.

Loyal Troops Smash Through Rebel Lines in South and Capture Adamuz

Reveals Confession

Authorities Differ On Murder Theory

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 11 (AP).—Authorities differed today over the motive in the Helen Clevenger murder case while preparations went forward for the trial of Martin Moore, negro hall boy, charged with killing the 18-year-old college girl.

Sheriff Laurence E. Brown said he was convinced the gangling, six-foot-three prisoner went to the girl's room in the fashionable Battery Park hotel to ravish her and killed her when she screamed.

The sheriff added, however, he did not believe an assault was actually attempted. Physicians, early in the case, did not agree on this phase.

Disputing the sheriff's theory, Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles, who will prosecute the case, said "the sex angle is out altogether."

He asserted he believed Moore entered the room solely to loot it and shot the girl in a moment of panic when he was frightened by her outcry.

That was the story the negro related in a confession Sheriff Brown and other officers announced that he made after his arrest.

Nettles disclosed he planned to hand the grand jury a bill of indictment next Monday and that the 22-year-old negro would be tried at a term of court convening that day.

Race Feeling High When Woman Tells Of Kidnap Attempt

Anniston, Ala., Aug. 11 (AP).—Race feeling ran high today after a gun battle in which four white men were wounded while hunting a negro accused of trying to kidnap a white baby from his crib.

Shotgun fire met a small body of searchers at a negro settlement about five miles from here when it approached a dwelling last night.

A posse of some 200 men continued the hunt for the man whose asserted abduction attempt was said to have been frustrated by the mother of the child when she struck him with a hammer.

The search was broadened to include the shotgun wielders.

Mayor W. S. Coleman described the clash as a "race riot." He said he would not ask for state militia aid, however, unless state law enforcement officers deemed it necessary.

J. A. Hicks, one of the men shot, said a volley of shotgun fire met him and a few companions when they approached a house after becoming separated from the main body of 100 or so possemen.

"Hell broke loose from all sides," Hicks said.

He was shot in the knee and Pat Hicks in the chest and back, apparently by charges fired simultaneously from opposite directions. Forney Martin was shot in the face. Mayor Coleman said he did not know the identity of the fourth man shot.

Police said Mrs. T. L. Williams of Lloyd's Chapel, a rural community about seven miles from here, reported the kidnapping attempt.

She said the suddenly encountered negro in her home late yesterday, and that the intruder was clutching a two-month-old baby in his arms.

Madrid, Aug. 11.—Loyal troops smashed through southern rebel lines, the government reported today, capturing the strait city of Adamuz, 21 miles northeast of Cordoba.

Two pieces of Fascist artillery and several machine guns were seized during the Adamuz engagement.

Leftist commanders consolidated their positions outside the rebel-dominated City of Cordoba and planned a fresh onslaught against the important provincial capital.

New regiments of loyal militia departed from southern concentration points to reinforce the march of steel which, in 25 days since the Fascist rebellion broke out in Spanish Morocco, has cut a curving aisle through rebel territory from Madrid to the Mediterranean.

The war ministry denied reports rebels had seized the cities of Santander, on the northern coast, and Badajoz, near the Portuguese frontier in southern Spain.

Formal organization of the new militia of the left Republican party was to be completed at ceremonies today in Madrid when volunteer soldiers and officers swear allegiance to the government.

Bitter Fighting

Bitter fighting continued between the opposing armies in the Guardarama mountain passes while Loyalists reported fresh advances in other northern sectors.

Lieutenant Berdejo, commanding a column near Avila, returned to the Sierra Leftist headquarters with news of a "successful advance" against rebel patrols in the region.

New columns of militia left Berja, Adra, Castell de Ferro and Larabiti in Almeria province to join the Leftist troops besieging Granada.

Government bombardment of the historic old capital already has begun, reports from southern rebel headquarters declared.

Shells from Leftist artillery were reported to have fallen on the Alhambra, famous 14th century palace of Moorish kings. The Alhambra stands on a hill overlooking Granada.

"War Zones" Declared

"War zones" were declared by the war ministry to include Heulva in extreme southwestern Spain; Cadix, the southern tip of the peninsula; the Balearic Islands; and three provinces in the extreme northwest—Coruna, Lugo, and Pontevedra.

Soldiers discharged from infantry regiments in 1934 and 1935 were ordered to report for duty at barracks in the capital.

The tribunal of constitutional guarantees expressed its loyalty to the republic, condemned the military uprising, and declared its members would defend the republican constitution.

The trial of two rebel leaders at Barcelona—Gen. Manuel Godea and General Burriel—was delayed to allow the prisoners' counsel additional time to prepare a defense.

The rebels were being tried by the Catalan war council meeting Albert Melville of Kingston and Barcelona harbor. Col. Guillermo Pena Cuel presided over the tribunal which also included four lieutenant colonels and one major.

As the session started, Diz Merre, government prosecutor, and Drian Docan, representing the Catalan government, demanded the death penalty for the two generals as leaders in the rebellion.

Staff Major Antoine Aymat Mareca, appointed to defend Godea and Burriel, based his plea on the grounds the military commanders were only the agents in Barcelona of the true leaders of the uprising.

The court granted Major Aymat Mareca additional time to study the case.

Tolosa Is Occupied

By ROBERT B. PARKER, JR. (Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press)

Irun, Spain, Aug. 11.—Spanish rebel troops today occupied Tolosa on the road to the Bay of Biscay resort of San Sebastian ostensibly in a final desperate drive to wipe out loyalist control of extreme northwestern Spain.

Headquarters of government leftist troops here admitted Tolosa had been taken by Fascists.

The government, however, insisted the city voluntarily had been evacuated by loyalists in an effort to draw the rebels into a trap.

Republicans Name Aides Piseck Says State Faces For County Picnic At "More Brutal Violence" Tillson Lake Saturday As Result of Milk Price

Contest Souvenirs to be Given by Games Committee, as Well as to Every Car Entering the Picnic Grounds.

TUG-OF-WAR TEAMS

Game of Softball Also Will be Held, Captain Cahill vs. Captain Wicks.

The Young Republicans of Ulster county, who under the leadership of their president, Frederick Stang, are taking active charge of the arrangements for the forthcoming big Republican picnic and rally to be held at Tillson Lake August 15, met at the court house Monday night to further plans for the big time.

Despite the rain there was a good attendance of members from various parts of the county and much enthusiasm was shown. Action was taken on a number of matters connected with the rally and a number of committees were named.

Philip Hendricks, Louis Bruhn and Andrew Ferguson, of Kingston, and Charles Lapp of the town of Rochester were named to assist Stuart Parks, who will have charge of sports and games during the day.

Mr. Parks has arranged a program of games that is designed to provide fun and entertainment throughout the day and the people are urged by the committee to come early, as there will be something going every minute. There will be games to suit all ages, from the little tots, who will be given special attention, to the older folks. President Stang hopes that everybody will participate in the games and contests, adding that for those who do not care to enter the competitive sports there will be plenty of other games and amusements.

Will Give Souvenirs

It is announced that attractive souvenirs, which will be found very desirable, will be given to every contestant. In addition there will be a souvenir for every car entering the grounds.

Captains were selected Monday night for the tug-of-war teams that will represent the county and the city. The team representing the county will be headed by Parker Decker of Highland. The city team will be captained by Joseph Fassbender. It will be some battle.

There is keen interest in the match game of softball between the Young Republicans and the older members of the party. Attorney Matthew V. Cahill will captain the Young Republican team and Senator Arthur H. Wicks will lead the opposing team.

Lifeguards in Attendance

To insure the safety of those participating in the water sports, as well as others, two assistants have been named to assist the regular corps of life savers at the lake. They are Joseph Melville of Kingston and Jesse McHugh of Wallkill will have charge of seating arrangements and John Melville of Kingston will have charge of the announcing, amplifying system being installed which will carry announcements and addresses to all parts of the grounds.

Mammoth Sunflowers

A feature of the day will be the decorations, which are in general charge of Arthur Kurts of the town of Gardiner. Reports from Mr. Kurts' committee indicate some startling effects. One of the displays which it is claimed will attract much attention will be some mammoth sunflowers. Some who have seen these big sunflowers claim that they will eclipse by far anything of the kind ever seen in Ulster county and will completely dwarf some of the big ones shown in years past at the Ulster County Fair.

Picnic of Music

A brass band furnished by the Kingston Musicians Local will play from early morning throughout the day. There will also be community singing of well known songs and the popular campaign songs. The committee plans to secure the services of one of the best known musical directors in this section to take charge of the singing. A feature of the musical program will be the singing of the national anthem by Mrs. Arthur H. Wicks, soloist at the Fair Street Reformed Church.

As has been announced two well known speakers will be heard during the day. They will be Senator George R. Pearson, the outstanding candidate for the nomination for Governor.

Crises Election of London

Middlebury, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—State Senator George R. Pearson of Syracuse in an address here, urged the election of Governor Alf M. Langdon as president to end industry's "uncertainty" over the New Deal administration's "experiments."

Pearson spoke to a rally of Schoharie county Republicans here last night. "The trouble with us today," he said, "is that despite the demand for consumer products we cannot speed up production to meet this demand because men who have the capital are afraid to engage in new enterprises and established industries are afraid to expand."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP).—The position of the treasury August 6: Receipts, $13,870,547.67; expenditures, $15,204,550.68; balance, $2,443,522.35. Customs receipts for the month, $8,552,555. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $461,391,521.49; expenditures, $462,405,074.18 (including $140,314,522.44 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $122,562.69. Gross debt, $22,511,440,613.98, a decrease of $4,440,256 from the previous day. Gold assets, $10,655,521,293.78.

No Other Communities

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—The state health department made public today a list of communities where, the department said, sanitary improvements are needed to further protect public health. No Ulster county communities were listed today.

Leader of 1933 Milk Strike, Marked by Trouble, Says Farmer Must Get Enough for Himself and Family to Live On.

FARMERS CHEER

Dr. Shirley Wynne Protests Increase in Retail Prices as Beyond Purchasing Power.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—Stanley Piseck of Newport, who claims to represent 45,000 farmers, said at a hearing today that New York state faces "violence more brutal than we have ever seen" unless farmers are paid a flat $3 per hundred pounds for milk.

Piseck was leader in the 1933 milk strike which was marked by occasional violence.

"We are in the greatest mess we have ever had, and we will never get out of it unless the farmer can get enough to live on," he declared.

Piseck laid his appeal for a $3 price before Agriculture Commissioner Peter G. Ten Eyck just after representatives of two larger producers organizations had called for an increase of one cent per quart in the retail price of milk to compensate farmers for increased production costs due to drouth.

Piseck, president of the Central New York Producers' Federation, was cheered by a group of farmers who were among the 150 persons in the hearing room.

The first voice in protest against an increase in retail prices was raised by Dr. Shirley Wynne, representing the distributors' organization known as the New Jersey-New York milk institute.

Dr. Wynne said he viewed the prospect of such an increase with great concern.

"The consumers' purchasing power is not increased," he said. "We feel that any increase to them would bring a reduction in consumption and thus offset any intended gain to farmers."

Also, representatives of two large producers' organizations recommended to the State Milk Control board an increase of one cent per quart in the retail price of milk to compensate farmers for what they claimed was increased production costs due to the drouth.

Fred E. Mathers, president of Sheffield Producers Cooperative Association, called for an increase of one cent a quart to consumers and an increase of 15 cents per hundred pounds (47 quarts) in the price paid to producers for fluid milk from the present $2.45 to $2.60.

Fred H. Seaeuer, president of Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, recommended that farmers not only receive an increase of 42 cents per hundred pounds for fluid milk but also a rise of 30 cents for cream used in the manufacture of soft cheese, evaporated milk and ice cream in New York city.

The price paid to producers for cream was increased last month from $1.65 to $1.90 per hundred pounds.

Bannister Cross-Examined

New York, Aug. 11 (AP).—Cross-examination of Harry Bannister, former actor and theatrical producer and divorced husband of Ann Harding, the screen star, continued today in the trial of three men charged with extorting $1,500 from him.

Bannister testified yesterday he paid the money in 1935 to silence "vicious and vile" affidavits which he said, the trio informed him were to be used by Miss Harding in an action involving custody of their daughter, Jane T. The defendants are: Harry Henchman, formerly Bannister's attorney; Jerome Jacobs, 48, a lawyer; and Raymond Derfinger, 39, a motion picture operator.

Board of Public Works Submits Enough Projects To Keep WPA Busy Here

Silk Mill Expected To Open in Two Weeks

Enough City Projects Are Filed With the WPA to Keep Laboring Men in Kingston Busy for Several Months.

NEW PROJECTS

In Addition Board Submits Enough New Projects So That Men May Be Kept at Work.

The Board of Public Works at its meeting Monday afternoon at the city hall approved 57 proposed WPA projects, 27 of which had been previously submitted but had not yet been approved by State Administrator Lester Herzog at Albany. The projects were approved by the board yesterday as Mr. Herzog has asked that enough projects be submitted so that there would be sufficient projects on hand to give idle men work.

The program approved by the board yesterday is sufficient to keep all of the idle men in Kingston busy for months to come. Mayor C. J. Heiselman presided at the meeting, and in addition to adopting the proposed WPA projects the board transacted several other matters.

Grading and reconstruction projects which have been previously submitted and not yet approved and will be resubmitted are:

Reconstruction—Clifton avenue. Grading and gravel surface—Third avenue.

Relay cobble—Ravine street. Relay granite block—Highland avenue.

Reconstruction—Washington avenue. Grading and gravel surface—First avenue.

Reconstruction—West Chestnut street. Extend—Stephen street from Clifton avenue and East Chester street.

Extend Wood street from Clifton avenue and East Chester street.

New Sewer Projects

The proposed WPA sewer projects for 1937 are:

Sanitary—Merritt, Fairview, Marlina, Alcazar, Hooker, court.

Storm—Fairview and Merritt avenue reconstruction.

Sanitary—Fairview outlet P. R. W. to Hurley avenue.

Sanitary and storm—Lincoln street to Fairview, and Fairview to Gage.

Storm—Montrose avenue. Sanitary—Sumner, Valley and other.

Sanitary—Delaware avenue (extension to take in three more properties).

Sanitary—Harwich street. Sanitary—Natura street. Sanitary—Changes in Willbur avenue.

Storm—The brook at intersection.

2 Men Die in Crash Of Plane Monday Night at Cossackie

Cossackie, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—The cause of an airplane crash in which two men perished in a cow pasture near here remained a mystery today pending investigation by a department of commerce inspector.

William Howell, 26, of Elmhurst, Long Island, the pilot, and his mechanic, Louis Burnell, 22, of Astoria, N. Y., were killed in the crash.

They were flying a biplane, a Stearman, on the Cossackie farm at Cossackie state shortly before 10 o'clock (daylight time) last night.

The wreckage was scattered in four sections over an area of approximately 2,000 feet. The two men were found dead in the crash, with the nose of the ship buried deep in the ground. A thousand feet away was one wing while approximately the same distance off in the opposite direction was the tail. Far in the rear was the other wing.

After viewing the position of the wreckage, Coroner Nathan H. Attenson expressed the opinion the plane had exploded in mid-air, breaking up before it hit the ground.

State police investigated two theories, one that it was struck by lightning and another that it was a row of trees on the edge of the field while attempting an emergency landing.

Ernest Swanton, on whose farm the plane came down, said a violent electrical storm which swept the Cossackie valley area, had passed when the plane crashed but he was not sure.

Howell's wife was waiting for him at the Albany airport. The couple expected to go to Saratoga for the races today. She hurried here to see him and identified her husband.

THE FEAR OF CANCER

By W. M. A. McBRIDE, Ph.D., Ph.D., B.S.

People sometimes cause themselves needless worry and anxiety through dread of cancer. Family history may have brought about this fear, and on the other hand there may be some health condition which causes the worry.

Handful fear by consulting a good doctor without delay. Ten to one he will diagnose the ailment as some perfectly simple and easily corrected condition which will respond to treatment.

A doctor is always glad to recommend a thoroughly reliable and competent druggist to fill the prescription—should a prescription be necessary.

MILTON

Milton, Aug. 10.—Several growers in this section report that grapes have been greatly affected by the lack of rain. They are small in size and are not ripening as they should. Grapes also are hurt. One farmer reports that as fast as they commence to turn they become soft and spongy and drop off the trees. Gardens have suffered also from the drought. Tomato vines are drying up, the leaves become shriveled and drop off. The tomatoes are so sun-scalded that they do not ripen properly. Sweet corn remains high in price also as a result of no rain. It is tough and lacks its usual sweetness.

From Haviland's cooler at the bridge circle in Highland fruit is being sent by truck throughout the eastern United States to city markets. Early pears and apples are moving. Clapp's Favorite pears, scattered Bartlett pears, red Astrakhan and Dutchess apples are the varieties. Prices are moderately good, varying with the packing and condition of the fruit.

Mrs. Edward Young, Sr., was in Syracuse recently where she attended the first annual state fair conference and dinner at the fair grounds. Mrs. Young is a member of the advisory committee of women's activities at the state fair. Governor Lehman has invited Mrs. Young to serve on a committee to study two cattle diseases, bangs and mastitis.

Walter R. Clarke of Milton addressed a meeting of the Mass Fruit Growers' Association on Saturday at Fitchburg, Mass. Mr. Clarke's son, James, accompanied him to Massachusetts.

The Presbyterian Sunday School of Milton held its annual picnic at Indian Point Tuesday, August 11. The trip to the Point was made by one of the Hudson River Day Line steamers from Newburgh. Transportation to Newburgh was made in automobiles from Milton.

The Community Garden Club held its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. C. Waterbury in Newburgh. Miss Dorothy Jenkins was the guest speaker and her topic was "House Plants." The tea committee consisted of Mrs. Elwood Eastman, chairman, Miss Cornelia Young, Mrs. Edward Seaman and Mrs. Charles Garrison. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday September 2, at the home of Mrs. Myron Hazen.

During the vacation of the pastor, the Rev. R. H. Northrop, the Rev. Fisher of Walden will preach in the Milton Methodist Church. The Rev. and Mrs. Ralph H. Northrop and son, William, left Thursday for Shelter Island, where they will spend part of their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Payne. Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings and daughter Ruth, of Northport, L. I., are spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Booth.

Mrs. Charles Leumann and son William Armstrong, of Brooklyn, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taber. Miss Isabel Taber is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Clayton Morse in Endicott.

A meeting of the Milton P. E. O. will be held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Hazen, Thursday afternoon, September 3. Mrs. J. W. Clark will be assistant hostess. Barbara Merritt will be in charge of the program on Women in Aviation. Mrs. Frances Hoag of Chambersburg, Pa., was a recent visitor at the home of her brother, Frederick W. Woolsey.

James Conklin of Ramsey, N. J., was in town Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clarke and daughter Carol, are visiting in Patchogue with Dr. and Mrs. Demarest.

Miss Elizabeth Taber left Wednesday by train for Canastota where she will visit her cousin, Miss Jean Davis. The annual meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will be held in the Milton Library Friday afternoon, August 14 at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. Howard Northacker of Elmhurst, L. I., a former pastor of the Milton Presbyterian church, assisted in the church service Sunday morning in account of the illness of the Rev. Joseph Favre.

BUSHNELLVILLE Bushnellville, Aug. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Quinn entertained a few friends Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Rosetta have held a house full of boarders for several week-ends.

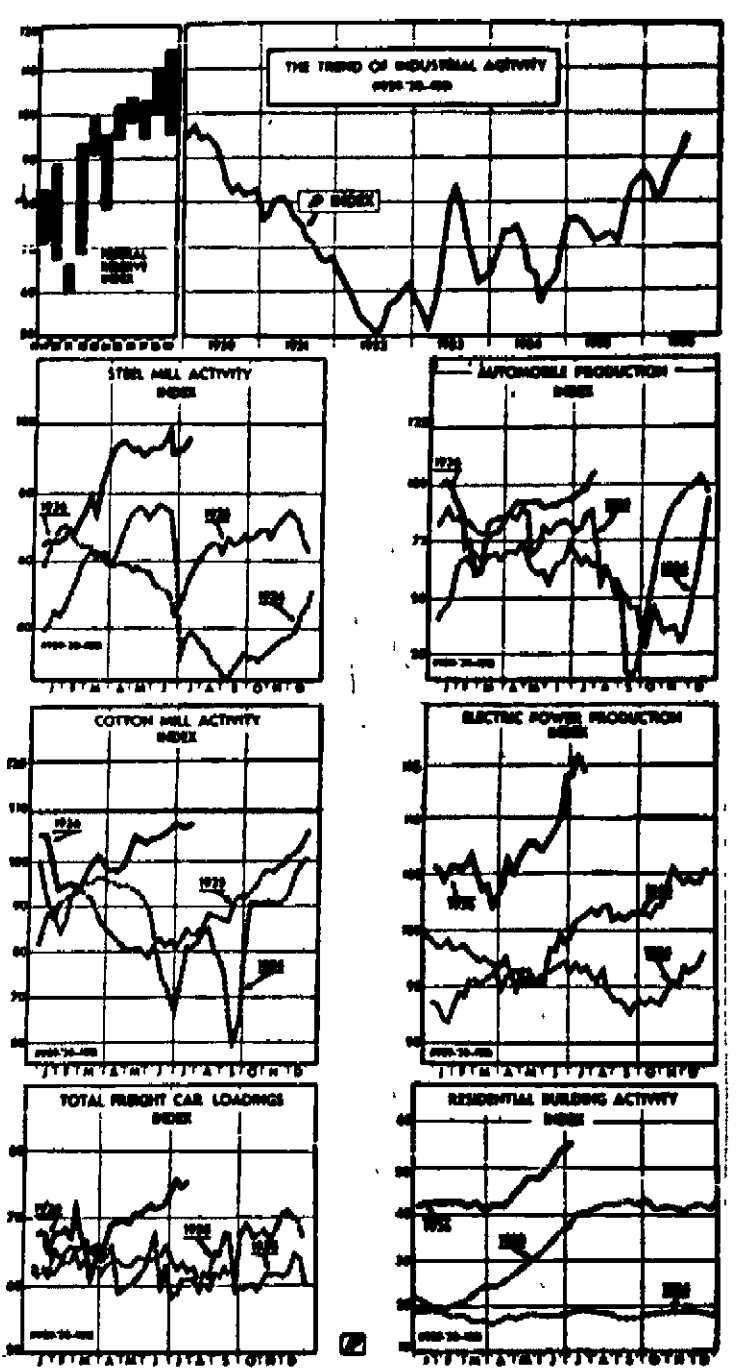

Mrs. Green's daughter from New York is spending some time with her. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Dunham entertained for dinner Thursday evening, Elmer Dunham, the Misses Mary and Margaret Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Glenford Lasher, Miss Aletha Barnum and Mrs. Willard Dunham.

Mrs. Rush has returned home, having spent a few weeks with relatives on Long Island. Mr. Merrill Dunham, brother, William Sturges, Mrs. Sturges and their daughter, visited her on their way from Lake Champlain Neck to their home in Woodmont, Conn.

Mrs. Small gave a party in honor of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Small, who is visiting her from Washington. Those who enjoyed the evening dinner party were the Kittellies, the Fishers, the Harris's and the Wheatons. Mrs. Small also entertained Saturday evening the E. F. Meyer family, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Newhall, Mr. Quinn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Dorian Meyer and later they all attended a dance at Foley's Hotel, Shandaken. The Casino at Bushnellville is closed.

Business Activity Trend

July Industry Brightest Since 1929

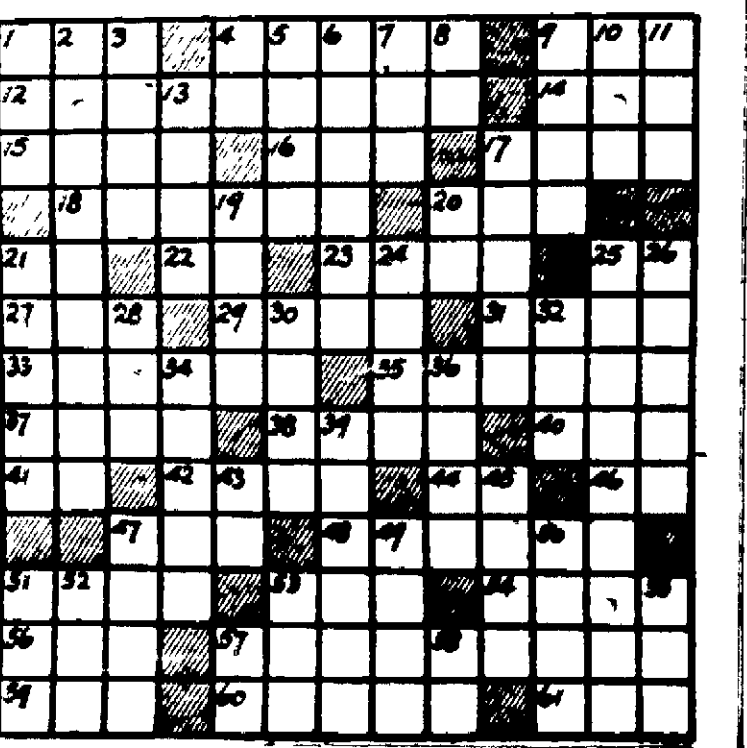

By The Associated Press
Industrial activity in July was the best for that month since 1929. The Associated Press seasonally adjusted index averaged 93.8, compared with 90.4 in June and 73.0 in the same period a year ago. All groups in the index shared the advancing trend. Although the summer months ordinarily see a slowing up of activity, the tempo as the year passed into its final half increased rather than slackened.

ARDONIA. Ardonia, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Eber Palmer and daughter, Marlene, were guests of Miss Marian Palmer in Modena last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick Ronk and children, were callers in Modena Friday evening. John Smith was a recent caller in Poughkeepsie. Miss Nora Barclay of Poughkeepsie visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barclay, Thursday. Mrs. Edna Young has returned to her home in Clintondale after having spent some time at the home of Miss Emma Palmer. Miss Beatrice Ward of Modena has been spending some time with relatives in town. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Patridge and Henry Barclay attended the regular meeting of Plattkill Grange Saturday evening, at which time Dr. Korn gave an interesting talk on Health, the Misses Margaret and Mary Carroll presented a skit, and Charles Everett delighted his hearers with two vocal selections, "The Road to Mandalay" and "Sylvia." He was ably accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Elmore Losler. Mrs. Eugene Patridge spent two days last week in Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Eber Coy and sister, Miss Margaret Cook are spending a few days on a touring trip. A slight improvement is noted in the condition of Miss Emma Palmer. Dr. Korn and a nurse are in attendance. Mrs. Ira Hyatt and Emmett Hyatt were recent callers in Walden.

College Offers Market Reports

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 11.—The New York state college of agriculture through the University Station WESG has a new produce market report service for farmers that will be in operation starting Monday, August 13.

The college offers state market reports from the principal markets in the state, and has a teletype installed to receive quotations. The service is made available by the New York state department of agriculture and markets at Albany.

Reports of prices and the state of produce will come to Ithaca from Albany daily. Albany, in turn, receives them from Syracuse, Buffalo, Menands, Rochester, Schenectady, and New York. Two reports will be offered, one on produce and the other on poultry and eggs.

The reports are expected to give a direct comparison between the upstate and New York city markets, and will interest farmers throughout the state. Marketing information will reach farmers from 24 to 36 hours ahead of any previous reports. This service will go on the air daily at 12:30 o'clock.

If it gets much drier around here the cows will be giving powered milk.—Jackson Co., Kansas, Signal.

Says the New Deal platform "Thus we propose to maintain the letter and spirit of the Constitution. Apparently gentlemen believe that people do not know the difference between 'proposing' and 'promising.'" There would have been some assurance in a promise. And there will be many to ask who is to interpret the Constitution.

B.P.W. Submits WPA Projects

Sanitary—Abeel and Dewitt streets.
Storm—Roosevelt Park section.
Sanitary—Hastings avenue (extension to take in three more properties).
Storm—On Pine Grove avenue from Mary's avenue to Susan street.
Sanitary—Washington avenue and North Front street.
Sanitary—Howland avenue.
Combination—Jensen avenue from East Chester street to Delaware avenue. Rebuild catch basins. Rebuild combination manholes.

New Water Projects

The proposed new WPA water projects for 1937 are:
Third avenue—Delaware avenue to High street (replace 4 inch with 8 inch).
Lounsbery Place—Mountain View to Grandview.
Grand street—Lower main and install 700 feet new main.
Apple street—New main.
Wilson avenue—New main.
Flatbush avenue—City Home to city line.
Washington avenue—Necessary replacements provided paving projects are done.
Green street—Necessary replacements provided paving projects are done.
West Chester street—Replacement.

Fairview section—Lower water where necessitated by grading projects.
Howland avenue—Lower water main where necessary.
Lincoln street—Lower water main where necessary.
O'Reilly street—Lower water main where necessary.
Prospect street—Replace 4 inch with 6 inch.
Livingston street—Replace 4 inch with 6 inch.
Stephan street—Replace 4 inch with 6 inch.
Shufeldt street—Replace 4 inch with 6 inch.

New Wage Scale

A copy of the new WPA wage scale was presented to the board and came in for lively discussion. It developed that the shovel operators on WPA street projects are only allowed to work 46 hours a month, and are paid at the rate of $1.15 an hour, making a total pay for the month of $75.90, for which they work approximately 6 days. The street laborer works 128 hours for which he received $52.80 for the 16 days' work a month. The operator of a street roller works 85 hours a month and is paid $76.80.

Under this setup when a man quits his hours in he is forced to quit work for the remainder of the month. This policy tends to slow up the work program for the steam shovel men only work six days a month, and when their time is up there is no one to handle the steam shovels on the street jobs. The same applies to the street rollers.

In order to keep the WPA program moving the board instructed the secretary to write Arthur H. Hahn, supervisor in charge of the WPA in Ulster county, calling his attention to the delay caused by the shoveler men being forced to quit when their hours are in and asking him to place two more steam shovel men at work as well as two more roller men. These men were available from the NRS lists.

Proposed New Projects

A petition was read from residents of DeWitt and Abeel streets asking that a sanitary sewer be constructed in those streets. The petition was referred to City Engineer Norton to prepare a WPA project.

Operate All Night

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood sent in a communication asking permission to operate the traffic lights in Hastings avenue and East Chester street, on a 24-hour schedule instead of shutting off the lights at midnight. The request was due to the heavy traffic all night through East Chester street. The request was granted.

Conway's Report

Superintendent David P. Conway submitted a report of the work done by the men under his supervision during the month of July. City tracks had carried a total of 701 loads to the incinerator and city dumps, and the daily average tonnage of waste disposed of at the incinerator was 24.6 tons.

The sewer gang had been kept busy cleaning catch basins and flushing sewers. Due to the dry weather of July and the lack of the water supply it has required constant attention to dead ends of sanitary sewers and frequent cleaning of manholes and catch basins.

During July considerable street work was done as follows:
Shaped and rolled Merrill avenue.
Shaped and placed evergreen course on Mary's avenue from Andrew street to Ohio street.

Shaped and rolled Voorhees avenue, part of Farrelly street, Devo street, Alcazar avenue, Lincoln street from Clifton avenue to Flatbush street.

Shaped sub-base and top course on sections of Third avenue.
Shaped ditches on Stephan street, on Gate street and Hudson street.

Shaped and rolled Pearl street.
Shaped and rolled wearing course and sub-base on Second avenue.
Shaped and rolled Furnace street.

Shaped and rolled DuBois street.
Shaped and rolled on Chapel street and on Albert street.
Shaped travel surface on Charlene street.

Shaped and rolled Miller's lane.
Shaped and rolled Theresa Lane.
Shaped and rolled Park and corner of handball diamond.

E. E. Ougheltree Died on Monday

Former Assistant Postmaster and Well Known Member of Ulster County Bar, Dies After Long Illness—For Years Active in Red Cross Work.

Edward E. Ougheltree, a former assistant postmaster of Kingston and a widely known member of the Ulster county bar, died Monday evening at his home, 29 Van Buren street, after an illness of several years. Funeral services will be held from the late home on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with burial in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Mr. Ougheltree had been a resident of Kingston practically all his life. He was born in this city on May 12, 1864, and as a youth he finished his preliminary education in old Ulster Academy on West Chestnut street, now School No. 2, and took up the study of law in the office of Lawton & Stebbins, a well known law firm in this city.

He was graduated from the law department of Union University in 1886 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws, and was admitted to the bar. Following his admittance to the bar he continued to practice law in the office of Lawton & Stebbins for about two years, when he received the appointment of assistant postmaster down town, where he remained until 1892.

During the year 1892, Mr. Ougheltree removed to Esopus where he practiced law and also served as a justice of the peace for about six years, returning to Kingston in 1899 to accept the office of assistant postmaster of Kingston, which position he held for a number of years. Mr. Ougheltree was serving as assistant postmaster at the time the central post office on Broadway was erected.

After leaving the postal service Mr. Ougheltree served for several years as supreme court librarian at the court house on Wall street. It was during these years that he became actively interested in Red Cross work and for a number of years he served as secretary of the Ulster County Branch, until illness forced him to retire from active work.

In 1889 he was married to Miss Marion Smith of Kingston, daughter of Jerome Smith. Mr. Ougheltree is survived by his widow, two daughters, Cornelia M. and Jessie M., and a son, Edgar E. Ougheltree, Jr.

Zioncheck Given Pomp at Funeral
Seattle, Aug. 11 (AP)—Military pomp and ceremony figured today in funeral arrangements for Washington's playboy congressman, Rep. Marion A. Zioncheck, who plunged to death Friday from a fifth floor campaign office window.

A 17-gun salute at Fort Lawton and an army bugler's "taps" at the graveside were included in the afternoon funeral services. The Washington Commonwealth Federation, a political organization advocating production-for-use, planned "the biggest funeral in Seattle" for the man whose escapades included the leaving of empty beer bottles on the doorstep of the White House.

The flag-draped casket was guarded by two marines.
The Rev. Fred W. Shorter, who presided at Zioncheck's only public address since the Congressman returned with his bride from Washington, D. C., this summer, was to deliver the funeral sermon.

Westport Is Richer
Westport, Conn., Aug. 11 (AP)—The Westport town court was richer by $15.40 today because Norman Horowitz, 30, of New York city, kissed his wife. The New Yorker was arrested by Sergeant Howard Baker last week after his car swerved out of line as he bent over to kiss his wife. The couple was riding to Worcester, Mass. Horowitz pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of violating the rules of the road and was fined $5 and costs of $10.40 by Judge Frank McMahon.

VonRibbentrop Is Envoy to London

Berlin, Aug. 11 (AP)—Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's personal emissary on many important diplomatic missions, today was appointed German ambassador to London.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, appointed ambassador to Great Britain today, was the world's prize diplomat, is a former champagne salesman.

Before his new appointment, he held the rank of ambassador-at-large and as such has had much to do during negotiations for cementing relations between the Reich and Great Britain.

State Dairymen Trail 31 States

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 11.—New York dairymen trail thirty-one other states in the number of cattle under supervision for the control and eradication of Bang's disease, according to the May report of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The state is listed as 18th in the number of cattle tested during May. The February report revealed that New York trailed thirty states in number of cattle under supervision, but since that time Kansas has stepped ahead.

New York now has 26,337 head of cattle under supervision, as compared with 621,121 for Wisconsin and 509,702 for Minnesota, the two leading states. This does not include private testing, says George Pringle of the state college of agriculture.

Mr. Pringle points out that New York dairymen who raise surplus cattle have had a market protected by a ruling of the state commissioner of agriculture and markets. This ruling made it impossible to ship cattle into New York state for dairy purposes unless, with a few exceptions, they were from herds free of Bang's disease.

This has been a boon to the men who raise surplus dairy cattle in the state, Mr. Pringle says, but it may have serious results. More and more purchasers of dairy cows are looking for cows free of Bang's disease and may soon be able to get them more easily in other states. If this happens, New York dairymen will lose their market for surplus cattle along with other advantages of a disease-free herd.

Mechanical Heart Is Demonstrated

Copenhagen, Aug. 11 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today demonstrated his mechanical heart to a large audience of fellow scientists.

The flier, who turned to the laboratory in cooperation with Dr. Alex. Carrel, invented an artificial heart, appeared on a platform before the International Congress of Experimental Cytology to explain the apparatus.

Neither Colonel Lindbergh nor Dr. Carrel, of New York, disclosed in advance what improvements, if any, had been made in the heart since it was announced in the United States in June, 1935.

A hint of scientific opinion of the apparatus came, however, from Dr. August Krogh, Danish winner of the Nobel prize for research.

City Was Swept by High Wind and Rain
A high wind that swept over the city late Monday afternoon proved but a prelude to the rain storm that followed close on the heels of the wind, bringing much needed relief to the parched lands in city and county. The high wind tore loose limbs from trees, but considering the velocity of the wind but little damage was reported.

The heavy rain fall that followed continued during the greater part of the night. Lawns and gardens were badly in need of rain, which was heartily welcomed by the residents of the city.

Iwanis Boys in Camp Events

Ne... camp, Aug. 11—... activities occupied the Ki... boys' camp here this week... Among the major events was a defeat in hardball Saturday afternoon by Camp Wakkondah, 5-4. Saturday night was stunt night, and each cabin presented a skit in competition for the coveted "double" on ice cream Sunday noon. An all-time record was set when cabins 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 were declared winners, cabin 6 losing out because it failed to present a stunt. Featured on the stunt night program was entertainment from Camp Wakkondah. Two quartets presented a group of songs which was highly applauded by the Preumaker campers. This is the first time a delegation of entertainment has been sent from one camp to the other, and Preumaker hopes to be able to return the favor early next season. The Sunday night campfire program included a group of popular songs and the completion of the story of Tolstol's "Ivan the Fool." Following the campfire several of the campers interested in astronomy made use of the telescope owned by Samuel Kevan to study the heavens. A number of "shooting stars" or meteors, most common in the month of August, were observed. Campers who recently swam the creek, and were allowed to enter the class of swimmers and given the boating privilege are: Charles Ertelt, Henry Schantz, Charles Martini and Vincent Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lahey and daughter, June, of Middletown, Mrs. Julia Wasson and daughter, Ruth, Mr. Rockefeller and Miss Viola Van Wagenen and friend of Poughkeepsie were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Van Demark on Sunday. The Ladies' Aid Society of The Vly M. E. Church will hold a lawn and a cafeteria party at the home of Mrs. Mina Trowbridge on Thursday of this week both afternoon and evening, starting to serve at 5:30 p. m., until all are served. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Olsen have returned to their home at Brooklyn for a two weeks' stay. Mrs. Louise Wilson of Jamaica, L. I., is the guest of Mrs. Charles Haupt for the month of August.

Mrs. Guel of Brooklyn has returned to Ulster Park after spending a few days with Mrs. Elizabeth Leibman. Mr. and Mrs. Cole and daughter of Ulster Park were the guests of Mrs. Emma Felen and Mr. and Mrs. James Felen on Sunday last.

Church services are held regularly in the Vly M. E. Church every Sunday, the time alternating every other Sunday. One Sunday the services are held at 2:30 p. m. and the following Sunday are held at 8:30 o'clock in the evening. Sunday, August 16, they will be held at 8:30 p. m.

Many people are of the opinion that bunions and corns and ingrowing nails, with perhaps a touch of athlete's foot in the summer and chilblains in the winter are the only foot troubles they can have. Not so, there are nearly seventy-five ailments that affect the feet.

Thousands of fishing sites that once were the joy of fishermen will provide less sport and yield fewer fish this year than ever before as a result of soil erosion, says E. G. Holt, head of the wildlife section of the Soil Conservation Service.

Amazons Battle Again As Spain Tries to Crush Revolt

FIRST OF THE LINE

Penthesilea, queen of the legendary nation which gave women fighters the name "Amazon," rides to war with an aide. (From the New York Public Library Pictures Collection.)

SISTERS OF WAR... RUSSIA

Women, armed and uniformed, composed the famous "Battalion of Death" in Russia organized and maintained by the Kerensky government. The battalion capitulated when the reds came to power.

Events Around The Empire State

Glen Falls, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—Two dogs were blamed by authorities today for the death of sixty-one sheep on the John Woodward farm near Fort Edward. Woodward reported hearing dogs barking in the pasture during the night and found the sheep dead when he went to turn his flock loose in the morning.

Catskill, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—Manning J. "Manny" Strewl, awaiting a second trial for the kidnapping of Lieutenant John J. O'Connell, was held today in the Greene county jail here in a cell once occupied by the late Jack "Legs" Diamond.

Strewl was transferred from the Albany county jail yesterday after Supreme Court Justice Sydney F. Foster granted him a change of venue. Strewl's new trial was ordered by the Appellate Division after he was sentenced to serve fifty years in Dannemora prison for the O'Connell kidnapping. O'Connell, nephew of Daniel and Edward O'Connell, powerful Albany Democratic leaders, was abducted in front of his home in Albany three years ago and held until $40,000 ransom was paid.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—Leater W. Herzog, upstate WPA administrator, disagreed with a majority report of Governor Lehman's unemployment commission which criticized work relief.

"We know of nothing better than work relief," Herzog said, "for it is a far-sighted policy, although its basis is expediency."

The majority report of the governor's commission opposed work relief as "a permanent method of meeting the problem of large scale unemployment."

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP).—The smallest apple crop since 1921 was forecast today by the agriculture department on the basis of estimates on crop reports as of August 1.

The department said the reports indicated a 1936 national crop of 102,487,000 bushels. The 1921 production was 85,478,000 bushels.

The department said that western states, "where damage from late frosts was less severe than in eastern areas," will have 45 per cent of the country's total apple crop.

New York, Aug. 11 (AP).—Certification of $1,958,376 to cover the federal share of expenditures for old age assistance in New York state for the quarter ending September 30 was announced today by Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, regional director of the social security board. A five per cent allotment for administrative purposes is included.

After October 1, Mrs. Rosenberg said, the present $1,264,260 a month spent on 60,407 needy aged will be doubled. The age pensions will be extended to those between 65 and 79.

Approximately 1,250,000 pounds of native grass seed, not commercially available, will be collected this year by the Soil Conservation Service for use in erosion control work on its demonstration areas. Men in charge already have requested more than one million pounds of this seed for 1937 spring planting. Whether the service can collect the estimated 1,250,000 pounds of seed will depend on crop conditions.

PLYMOUTH STANDS UP highest used car prices... is in biggest demand... according to dealers.

Of "All Three" Plymouth Commands Highest Prices for Year-old Models—is Most in Demand!

WHEN NEW "All Three" low-priced cars cost about the same. But it's different after they've been driven a year or more... and are offered as used cars.

Plymouth models command top prices, are most in demand. Dealers everywhere confirm this... declare it costs less to recondition year-old Plymouths. The reason is, Plymouth is built and engineered to take it... to give long, trouble-free performance.

Great engineering gives Plymouth an uncommonly quiet, simple, 6-cylinder "L-head" engine...with the tremendous power of highest compression (6.7 to 1) using ordinary gas...the economy of calibrated ignition...full-length water jackets and directional circulation. Plymouth owners report 18 to 24 miles per gallon...lowest oil and upkeep costs of any low-priced car.

Most important of all...safety! Plymouth is still the only one of "All Three" with both a Safety-Steel Body and double-action Hydraulic Brakes.

This is not a used car ad. But these facts about used cars prove: Plymouth stands up best. So be sure to compare "All Three" before you buy a new car. And be sure to drive the big, smart Plymouth. See your De Soto, Chrysler or Dodge dealer. PLYMOUTH DIVISION OF CHRYSLER CORPORATION.

Dark-skinned natives caught up guns and marched off to the front with their husbands when Ethiopia and Italy went to war.

By CHARLES NORMAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

The Amazon, fierce female warrior depicted by ancient writers, has her modern counterpart in Spain, where women enrolled to defend the Popular Front government against the Fascist rebels are giving a good account of themselves under fire.

Dispatches from the mountain passes guarding Madrid report women armed with rifles and revolvers fought like tigresses to block the Fascist advance, while in cities loyal to the Leftist government they have organized armed street patrols to maintain order, freeing the men for front service.

The courage and devotion to duty shown by Spanish women recall the military exploits of female warriors of the past, the Amazons of antiquity. Joan of Arc, Molly Pitcher, of Revolutionary fame, and the famed but ineffective "Battalion of Death" formed to defend the winter palace of the czar in revolutionary Russia.

Legendary Warriors.

The Amazons were a legendary nation of female warriors dwelling in an independent kingdom on the Euxine sea. Old writers credit them with successful invasions of Scythia, Thrace, the coasts of Asia Minor, and the islands of the Aegean, even penetrating to Arabia, Syria and Egypt. No men were suffered in their kingdom, although once a year, to prevent their dying out, they visited the Gargareans, a neighboring tribe. Male children were put to death or returned to their fathers; female children were brought up as Amazons.

Some writers regard the story of the Amazons as pure fiction; others see historical foundation for it. The sixteenth century Spanish explorer Orellana reported tribes of fighting women in South America.

The story of Joan of Arc, who led the French soldiery against the English, is well known, while America has her gallant woman soldier-patriot in Molly Pitcher, whom Washington made a sergeant for her bravery against the British.

Aided French Revolt.

Dahomey, a colony in French West Africa, maintained female battalions as part of the regular army. The women soldiers were seen by Sir Richard F. Burton, translator of "Arabian Nights," in 1852, when they numbered 2,500.

During the French revolution the women of Paris armed themselves and marched on Versailles and it was they who formed the guard for the royal prisoners to prevent their escape. Women's battalions also were formed in the provinces during the revolution.

The "Battalion of Death," made up of women in uniform, was organized by the Kerensky government after the downfall of the czar, and not by the Bolsheviks, as is generally supposed. The battalion functioned until the October revolution, when the reds seized power. The women soldiers capitulated in the face of certain annihilation. In the Russia of today women may enter military academies for the study of technical subjects like engineering and communications. According to the Soviet consulate in New York city there are no regiments of women in the red army.

Led Ethiopian Army.

The present Russian ambassador to Sweden, Mme. Alexandra Kollant, won her fame as a fighter during the revolution.

The recent Italo-Ethiopian war brought two notable women warriors to the attention of the world—Walzeru Shamerga Gaby, who headed an army of 15,000 men which took the field at the start of hostilities, and Mme. Asagedich, wife of Colonel Habte Mikael, Ethiopian commander in the province of Ogaden. Defying Emperor Haile Selassie's orders, she went to the front with her husband, was captured by the Italians, later released.

Breaks Don't All Go To Pedigreed Pets; Even Mongrels Can Live In Film Homes

By ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—Even the hound dogs and alley cats of Hollywood can achieve that animal heaven usually reserved for pedigreed pets, adoption into a movie home.

Some of them have done so, creeping with ragged coats and dejected men into the affections of tenderhearted actor folk, and remaining there sleek, well-fed and happy.

George Brent has four pedigreed dogs, but he also has Mrs. Malaprop, a mongrel he found at an animal shelter. Another mongrel owner is Hugh Herbert.

Dog-givers have selected Clark Gable as a mark for their generosity. He has found six at his front door, each with a note requesting a home. He kept two and gave the others away.

Saga Of Minnie.

Minnie used to be an established member of the Virginia Bruce household. A striped alley cat, Minnie wandered in one day, was fed, and refused to leave. She soon produced progeny—quintuplets. When Virginia moved, the cat family moved, too, but Minnie disappeared the second day.

Claudia West, the scenarist, swings into action at sight of a homeless dog or cat. She now cares for two dogs and five cats in her own home, and "boards out" seven dogs and three cats. Another scenarist, Grover Jones, is especially partial to Old Sport, the only unpedigreed dog in his kennels.

"Enemy," a bright-eyed mongrel, mostly poodle, wandered onto a film location one day and became the pet of Florence Rice, who says he has more personality than any ribbon winner. "Spiko," Joseph Calleia's mongrel, just wandered in, too, to join "Whiskers," his pedigreed sheep dog.

Humphrey Bogart's Manx cat, he admits, is only one-fourth Manx—but the seven-year old "Tommy" has been his constant companion through Hugh Herbert's mongrel cutie receives his adoring gaze with aplomb. stage tours and is with him in Hollywood.

Adopts A Horse.

"Rags" followed Beverly Roberts home from the corner market one evening. He's just a pooch, extraction uncertain. In the same manner did Ann Preston acquire her two ginger kittens.

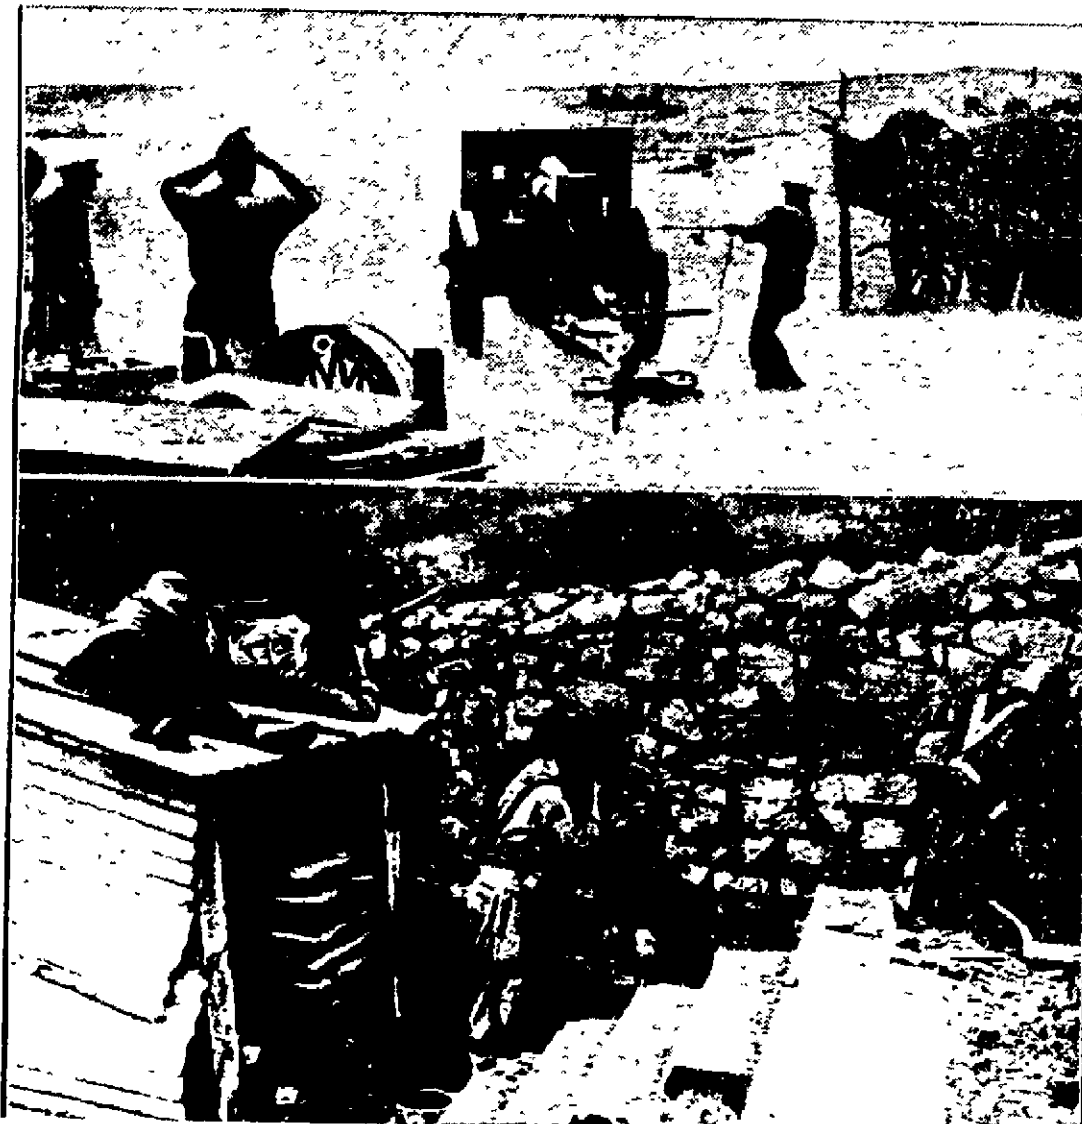

Desires his pedigreed dogs, Warren William has "Belinda" and "Rags," the former an adopted stray, the latter rescued from a pound. "Miggs" is the distinctive name Patric Knowles gave the alley cat that adopted him.

Tom, Nellie and Hi-Pockets three cats who adopted Dick Powell, now live in a fair state of peace with his thoroughbred dog. But Joan Blondell has Seragg, a rather question-markish pooch, and Caruso, a backside vocalist. And when it if Joan and Dick marry—will the peace be maintained.

Noah Beery, Jr., however, probably outdoes them all. He adopted a stray horse, an Indian pony bought for $1 on a recent location.

LEFTIST DEFENDERS HARD PUSHED BY REBELS

Renewed assaults by Fascist insurgents on Santander, San Sebastian and Irun in northern Spain and heavy fighting on several other fronts sent casualties in Spain's bloody civil war running high. A field gun, manned by Loyalists, is shown at top tramped on the village of Guadarrama, northeast of Madrid. While below are shown loyal militia taking cover behind a garden wall on the outskirts of San Sebastian. (Associated Press Photos)

FOREST FIRES RACE THROUGH MINNESOTA'S WOODS

Forest fires, many of them kindled by lightning, raced through Minnesota's north land forests and brought out hundreds of city dwellers to aid an army of fire fighters in a grim effort to halt the flames. One of the many fires, taking through pine and second growth timber, is shown above. (Associated Press Photos)

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—After a day of irregular trading during early morning, the stock market put back up somewhat as demand for steel quickened.

The stiffening of prices in the late afternoon left gains and losses about equal, although it reduced the size of the session.

Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible, General Motors, American Locomotive, American Water Works, American Can, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, preferred, All-American and Pittsburgh Steel and others.

Chemical slumped about 3/4 point, while steel was 3/4 point higher. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible, General Motors, American Locomotive, American Water Works, American Can, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, preferred, All-American and Pittsburgh Steel and others.

Steel was down a little. Corn, wheat and soya bean higher as prices lightened. Cotton picked up a little. Foreign exchanges steady.

May Use Starting Blocks

Berlin, Aug. 11 (AP)—Starting blocks may yet be admitted to the International Amateur Athletic Federation's Rule Book. It was indicated today at the final sessions of the federation's two-day meeting.

"I think starting blocks will be adopted at the next meeting in 1938," said Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic Association, after he raised the question which four years ago the federation flatly declined even to discuss.

U. S. Is Invited

Paris, Aug. 11 (AP)—The French government decided today to invite the United States to join European nations in the Spanish neutrality agreement. The proposal for a "hands off" accord will be sent to Washington and other nations "more distant" connected with the Spanish civil war after the powers immediately interested have given their adherence to the neutrality pact, the foreign office said.

The Spectacled Bear

The giant panda of Tibet is also known as the spectacled bear. It is not a true bear but belongs to the family of raccoons and is about the size of a small brown bear.

The general body color is white, except for black rings round the eyes, from which it gets its name. It has small, rounded black ears, a black "saddle" across the shoulders and a black rump. It is purely herbivorous and is found in forest country at an altitude of about 12,000 feet in the wild and inaccessible mountain ranges of the Province of Szechuen, on the east Tibetan border.

MOST FAITHFUL OWNER

Simon A. Cruickshank, of Plainfield, N. J., winner in The Studebaker Corporation's Veteran Owner Contest, is shown here receiving title to the grand prize, a President Cruickshank Sedan, from M. E. Hewins, New York zone manager for Studebaker. Mr. Cruickshank, who has owned and operated Studebakers continuously since 1904, qualified as "the Studebaker owner over the longest period of time." In addition to being the most faithful Studebaker owner, he is the oldest member of the New York stock exchange. He is past 80.

Chevrolet's expenditure of $25,000,000 on the expansion of manufacturing and assembly facilities during the second half of 1935—the greatest single expansion operation that the automotive industry has seen in years—has already proved its value, according to officials of the Chevrolet Motor Company. Only the increase in output made possible by the gigantic expansion has enabled Chevrolet to produce cars in sufficient numbers to make possible the new all-time sales records that have been established in the first six months of 1936. Even with the stepped-up production, however, it has not been easy for Chevrolet to build cars fast enough to keep pace with the dealers who now have in stock no more than a three weeks' supply of units.

"In just a few more weeks the streets will be filled with hurrying school children. No other one fact places a greater responsibility upon motorists," said Bert Wilde, Good-year dealer, located at 632 Broadway.

"It is not enough," he continued, "to drive carefully always on the alert to avoid possible accidents. Further insurance against schoolchild striking some unwary schoolchild is to have your tires completely checked."

Most drivers, he explained, do not consciously drive recklessly without regard for human life, but all too often smooth-worn tires with resultant poor traction fail to respond to the driver's pressure upon the brakes. Consequently skidding not only endangers the pedestrian's life but the driver's as well.

Upon the extension and improvement of the national highway system depends the extent of the expansion of the automobile industry. In the opinion of C. L. McCuen, Oldsmobile president and general manager, and upon the expansion of the automobile industry depends to a large extent the prosperity of the country and additional increases in employment. Automotive engineers constantly are working on mechanical advances to rib motor car. Safety is a factor receiving primary consideration. Engines have reached the point where they provide all the speed and power which is safe for the average driver. The modern car has reached the stage where motorists say about it: "How can anything more be done?" But in the roadways of the country there is room for great improvement. Mr. McCuen pointed out, "Our highway program is far behind the program of the automobile industry." he said. "There still remain hundreds of thousands of miles of unpaved roads carrying heavy traffic. There still are narrow roads, dangerous grades, unsafe and narrow bridges, short visibility, unsafe turns, traffic congestion in busy cities and a thousand and one other highway problems."

A new nine-year high for July shipments of Cadillac and LaSalle cars is assured by field reports arriving at the office of Don E. Ahrens, general sales manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Company. "With only a few scattered reports still to be received, the figures show that July sales have run at least 33 percent above those recorded in July of a year ago," said Mr. Ahrens. "Neither our July sales total nor our sales for the first seven months of this year has been matched since 1929. All of our lines, including the Cadillac, LaSalle and Cadillac-Fleetwood cars, contributed toward the rise in sales volume."

Announcement has just been made by the Pierce-Arrow Motor Corporation, of the formation of a new division of the company to handle the production and sale of a complete line of tourist-type trailers. This addition by Pierce-Arrow to its line of famous automobiles not only marks the entry of the first automobile manufacturer into the trailer field, but it also brings to the market the first trailer designed by automobile body and chassis engineers and built by automobile workmen under automobile building conditions. The influence of this engineering background is evident, for the new trailer is the first ever produced with all steel chassis and body frames and with body paneling including roof entirely of metal.

Terplevitz Taken To New York City

John Terplevitz of 225 62nd street, Brooklyn, who was held by U. S. Commissioner Connelly under $1,000 bail for appearance in federal court on a charge of passing counterfeit money, was taken to New York City this afternoon by Deputy U. S. Marshal John J. Henegery.

Terplevitz was arrested in Catskill August 6, charged with passing a bad $10 bill. He claimed that the bill had been given to him by another party and that he had tried to pass it on. He has been held at the Ulster county jail since his arraignment before Commissioner Connelly Saturday.

Dodgers End Giant Streak By 6-5; Washington Routs Yankees, 13-4

(By The Associated Press)

Should the baseball fates give the St. Louis Cardinals the 1936 National League pennant by one game or less over Chicago's Cubs, Charles Grimm probably would go down in the frayed record books as the "Good Time Charlie" who gave away the tag.

The Cub pilot made the sportsmanlike gesture yesterday of allowing Dizzy Dean to remain in the first game of the important Cub-Cardinal series after the pitcher was about to be chased out by umpires for fighting Tex Carleton.

Grimm talked the umpire into letting Dizzy stay, and the Red Bird star proved his gratitude by handing out the Cub's 7 to 2, dropping them to second place.

The chances are that the Cards, who drove Lonnie Warneke to cover with a four-run barrage in the fourth inning to break up a close game, would have won without the great Dizzy. If that game alone separates the two teams at the finish, however, Grimm undoubtedly will be accused of being too tender hearted.

Stung by the quips flung at him by Carleton, who celebrated an off day by doing a lot of shouting, Dizzy suddenly left the pitching mound in the first inning and raced toward the Cub dugout.

The fiery Carleton leaped out, and they clinched and scuffled until players separated them. To the amazement of the 30,000 fans, Dean resumed the mound, and it was explained that Grimm had pleaded successfully against his expulsion.

Brooklyn snapped the Giants' seven-game winning streak, 6 to 5. Three hits and an error turned the trick for the Stengel crowd, which has won seven out of 12 games against the Giants this season. The defeat dropped the Giants 4½ games behind the Cardinals.

New York's Yankees, riding along with a seemingly invincible margin in the American League race, absorbed one of their nearest likings of the year yesterday as Washington pounded three pitchers for 18 hits and a 13 to 4 victory.

It was the first Senator triumph of the season at Yankee Stadium, and Jimmy Deshong, ex-Yankee hurler, led the procession with eight hits. The defeat trimmed the Yankee lead over Cleveland's idle Indians to 11½ games, with 48 to play.

The Boston Bees rallied sharply in the closing innings to hand the luckless, skidding Philadelphia Phillies their eighth straight setback, 9 to 7. Other teams were idle.

Buttons, Buttons

There are probably 50 or 60 billion buttons on clothes in American wardrobes and on American people, men averaging around 450 buttons each, women less than that. A man's business clothes are held on by about 30 buttons. A woman may have as few as none at all. And yet a good button is not nearly as common as one might think. It should have certain definite characteristics. The back, just behind the holes, should be reinforced or built out a little; the holes should have rounded edges so as not to fray the thread; and the bridge between the holes should be not too thin. These points any woman can detect for herself when she buys buttons; unfortunately, she cannot tell how the button will launder.

Buttons are made of many substances—wood, leather, bone, plastic in gay colors, "vegetable" ivory, metals and cloth.

Caddies Must Accept Risk Of Golfers' Poor Posture

(By GARDNER SOULE)

New York (AP)—The case of Brosko, a caddy, vs. Hetherington, a golf player, comes into the news again.

The lawsuit, tried during the summer of 1932, in Delaware county, Pa., is discussed by Henry W. Taft, the New York lawyer and brother of the late ex-president William Howard Taft, in the New York Law Journal.

Brosko was a faithful caddy. He was not only faithful, he was unusually careful. He was so careful, in fact, that when his master addressed the ball he would stand some 30 feet to the right and not more than six feet in front of the tee.

Brosko couldn't see how any player, for whom he might happen to be working, could possibly drive a ball so as to hit him in that position. No matter what contortions the player used, such a feat seemed impossible. Yet it happened. Brosko was hit by a flying ball.

This was too much for the faithful caddy. He didn't know whether Hetherington was guilty of deliberate malice, of gross negligence, or of nothing at all. So he sued. And the trial judge awarded the verdict to the plaintiff.

Says Golf Has Its Risks

This is where Mr. Taft comes in. He's been a lawyer for some 40 years, and he's been playing golf that long. That's why the editor of the Law Journal asked for his opinion.

Mr. Taft disagrees with the judge, and the country may not be safe for caddies any longer if a higher judge ever reverses the first decision to uphold Mr. Taft.

It's a masterful and scholarly review of the case—this opinion of Mr. Taft's. It assumes, in a way, that golf is a dangerous sport and that caddying is a dangerous occupation—like lion-taming or deep-sea diving. It assumes that, since the work is risky and is known to be so, then it is a matter of every caddy for himself.

First, Mr. Taft defends all the golfers of America who owe their skill to natural ability or constant practice rather than to bought-and-paid-for coaching.

"You say," Mr. Taft writes the editor, "that the judge commented reprovingly upon the fact that the defendant had never taken lessons from a professional." If the judge's reproval implied that the failure to take lessons from a professional was per se negligence, it shows a lack of familiarity with the history and practice of the game. When I began to play the game, there were few professionals and lessons were rare.

Who Can Judge Posture?

If Hetherington did use an "improper posture," and an "improper swing," he was not necessarily guilty of negligence, Mr. Taft says. A baseball batter would not be liable, the lawyer opines, if he knocked a pitched ball which hit the first or third baseman; nor would a polo player be responsible if he drove a ball in such a way that it smote another player. Not even if in other cases "improper postures" were used.

Anyway, asks Mr. Taft, who is to say what is correct posture? "Equally skilled golfers assume a variety of postures," he continues. "Some players spread their legs wide apart, some place them close together, some stand pigeon-toed, some slant their toes outward, and some stand straight, while others lean over. But from these varying postures (however unorthodox they may be) good results are obtained."

"The Brosko case involves the interesting question as to when moderate skill (which is all that 95 per cent of players have) or a lapse from perfect performance (which everybody is frequently guilty of) amounts to negligence. Lack of skill may amount to negligence, but in a game where departures from perfect practice are so common and result in so many risks, that can only occur in an extreme case."

Automobile Races At Orange Co. Fair; Midgets at New York

(By The Associated Press)

Middletown, Aug. 11.—Always a major event of the Eastern AAA Championship program, the auto races at the Orange county fair took on added interest today with announcement that both Tommy Hinnershitz and Bobbie Ball were enrolled. This was in addition to the information that Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick, N. J., who last year was involved in the Middletown track in one of the most spectacular and thrilling accidents of auto racing history, would return to make another try at conquering the Harry Clay Oval. The races will be Saturday, August twenty-second.

Hinnershitz, young speedster from the Laureldale district of Reading, Pa., already is well on the way toward the 1936 Eastern Speedway Championship, but the Middletown racing will be his first appearance in this territory. Many fans who have followed him all season through the new columns will thus have opportunity to observe for themselves the driving skill that has won the plaudits of race followers and sports writers wherever he has participated.

E. C. Smith Namde
Architect on New School in Lloyd

Highland, Aug. 11—Edward C. Smith was designated as architect for the new north addition to the high school at the meeting of the trustees of the centralized district held Friday night. Mr. Smith will meet with the trustees at an adjourned meeting of which no date was set at the time. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $3,642.84. Dr. H. Kurtz rendered a report in writing of repairs needed on the roofs and gutters following an inspection of the building as he had been requested to do. He also found repairs needed to the tower and ventilator. A new heating plant has to be installed in the present north wing and a fireproof staircase is being considered for that section of the building. The budget carried $6,500 as the amount necessary for the repairs and painting of classrooms, also $400 on the outside schools. It was reported that some painting would be done.

A letter was read from Burton McCormick, of the state department, insisting on History B, or modern history be added this year. This was left for consultation with the principal. A. W. Lent was authorized to check the title of the newly purchased land from Hubert and Florence Eiding for the addition to be erected.

The committee for the year on the various needs of the school system as appointed at a previous meeting were: Buildings, C. I. Richards, Andrew W. Lent; Grounds, William H. Maynard, Philip T. Schantz; supplies and purchases, William H. Maynard, Philip T. Schantz, with Principal Herbert Campbell assistant; textbooks, library, etc., William H. Maynard, Philip T. Schantz with Mr. Campbell assistant; audit and finance, William H. Maynard, C. I. Richards; substitute teachers, Mrs. J. D. Rose, Principal Herbert Campbell. Trustees assigned to outside schools: Elitina Garner.

terville, Philip T. Schantz; Oakes and Riverside, William H. Maynard;
Vineyard avenue and Wilkows, C.
L. Richards; Main building,
Mrs. J. D. Rose and A. W. Lent.

It was in the two-story concrete and wood structure that Alfred E. Smith worked as a boy for $12 a week.

George Clark, 73-year-old night watchman of Brooklyn who was inside the structure, was injured critically by falling debris as another man sought to pull him to safety. Twelve persons escaped.

For 150 feet the market stretched along the river with 50 of its 75 feet high piles.

These piling collapsed and carried part of the building tumbling into the water as well as pulling down sections pillared on South Street.

The original Fulton fish market, a wooden structure and part of the loading that fell, was erected in 1900 and had been in constant use since that time.

A score of fish stands and a truck company were housed in the market. The crash demolished a few stands outside and temporary will put others out of business, besides Smith, other prominent Yorkers, including Patrick Hines, grew up in its environs. Smith, who was born under the spring span of nearby Brooklyn bridge on South street once worked in the commission house in the market.

Franklin Used Glasses; "Near," "Far," His Ide

It was Benjamin Franklin in the 1780s who gave the first stimulus to spectacle-making in this country. He quotes a writer in the New York Spectator as saying: "After all, it was he who, through his printing press and his Poor Richard's Almanacs, began the greatest to date to strain upon innocent eyes, and so perhaps it was only right that he should provide the panacea. A pair of spectacles seems that he himself had been carrying around two pairs of specs, one for "seeing near" and one for "seeing clear." It was a bother to change for near and far sight, and so he conceived the idea of cutting his lenses in half and putting the upper of one pair and the lower of the other pair into the same frame, when, lo, the bifocal had arrived. Although a long step toward ease and convenience, these first bifocals had a hard, straight line which came directly in front of the pupil, and sometimes a little space where there was no glass if the meeting was poor.

Even though we were at the mercy of foreign manufacturers our little shops did their best to supply our eye needs. Hannah Briental, in 1758, kept shop in Philadelphia in Second street near Black-Horse Alley." She carried: "Variety of the finest crystal spectacles set in simple Steel. Leather and other frames. Likewise true Venetian Reading Spectacles for weak and Watery Eyes, of Various Sorts. Also concave spectacles for short-sighted persons, Magnifying and Reading Glasses, Telescopes, Perspectives, with Multiplying Glasses and Glasses with Davis's Quadrants, etc. Also eye Glasses for taking Landscapes." A "perspective" was a "peeping glass," and the "ox-eye" a large glass for taking in miles of landscape or "landscape."

Pebbles and Bread Crumbs Once Used to Do Problems

French children love to hear tell the budding genius Andre Marie
Mayer, who, while still far too young to deal with figures, worked out mathematical sums with pebbles and bread-crumbs.

Amperé had a sad life. When he was eighteen, in 1782, his father, a Justice of the peace, who had withstood the worst excesses of the revolution, was imprisoned and on afterwards executed. Only a deep and ardent interest in poetry, music and botany saved the young man from succumbing to his consequent depression. His only happiness was in his wife, Marie Caron, whom he met in 1796. After two years' married life, he became a writer in the Philadelphia newspaper, he had to leave her and his infant son at Lyons, where he had been teaching, in order to earn more money for them by lecturing on physics and chemistry at Bourges.

It was after writing many brilliant articles on the mathematical theory of gambling, demonstrating that the chances were against the habitual gambler, that Ampère found a place as professor of mathematics at the Lycee of Lyons, where he had scarcely settled in Lyons, when his second wife died.

Concert This Week At Williams School

In place of the usual student recital Thursday evening, the Ernest Williams School of Music in Pine Grove, Saugerties, will present a special concert by the full orchestra of the school, under the direction of Pierre Henrotte. This will be the first concert by the orchestra given this year at the school.

The first few weeks of the summer season were devoted by Mr. Henrotte to training the orchestra for the participation in the production of "Fame," given so successfully at the school. Since then he has been rehearsing the group in a number of selections from the standard concert repertoire.

Cecile Jacobson, soprano, will be heard as soloist at Thursday night's concert. She will sing the famous air "O Patria Mia" from "Aida" by Giuseppe Verdi. Another feature of the program will be the performance of a concerto for trumpet and orchestra, composed by Ernest S. Williams, director of the school. The solo part will be taken by Miss Madeline Bogle of Sebring, Fla.

The full program follows:
Overture—"Leonore" . . . Beethoven
Concerto for Trumpet and Orchestra—Williams
Suite No. 1—"L'Arlesienne" . . . Bizet
Aria—"O Patria Mia" from "Aida" . . . Verdi
Marche—Slave . . . Tchaikovsky
There will be a nominal admission charge. Dancing will follow the concert.

LAKE BACK OF COURT HOUSE HAS DISADVANTAGES

One of the attractions at the official parking grounds back of the court house during a heavy rainfall is the quite extensive lake which forms just back of the court house. The lake had attained sizable proportions by 10 o'clock Monday night, as Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg discovered when he floundered in water well above his ankles as he went to get into his car for the drive home to West Hurley. Clay said that at first he thought he was going to have to swim to make it.

The location of the lake has one disadvantage, outside of the peril it offers to those using the parking grounds, the water with difficulty finds its way through the hard surface of the ground and a good share of it pours through the walls and into the cellar of the court house at that point.

A lot of fellows are in favor of free speech only when it is their speech.

"Milk Holiday" Threatens State

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—A dairyman's warning of a "milk holiday" in central New York unless producers are immediately granted a better return for their product came today as dairy industry representatives opened a hearing to consider possible milk price increases ranging from the farm to buyer.

Felix Black of Newport, secretary of the Central New York Milk Producers' Federation, said that the organization would withhold milk from the market unless the state milk control board "acts immediately to increase the price paid producers to three dollars per hundredweight."

Since June, 1934, farmers have received $2.45 per 100 pounds (47 quarts) for fluid milk.

Black said 4,000 farmers in 19 counties were members of the organization.

Drought conditions, the producers' spokesman said, have steadily increased production costs.

"We want three dollars for all milk produced up until next March 1," he declared. "That is our rock-bottom demand. Our mistake in the last milk holiday was in giving too much notice of its beginning. This time we won't make that mistake. We will call it without too much notice."

"Nature is on our side this time too. Pennsylvania and the midwestern states, because of the drought, haven't got too much milk to spare."

Milk control board officials declined immediate comment.

In calling today's hearing, State Agriculture Commissioner Peter G. Ten Eyck said that the prolonged dry spell has forced milk production costs "sky-high" due to a shortage of native feed.

At present, consumers generally are paying 12 cents a quart for milk delivered to upstate homes and 13 cents for milk brought to the door in New York city.

Don't Talk So Much About Music, Says Heifetz, Hitting 'Time Fillers'

By JOHN SELBY

New York, (AP)—We talk too much about music, thinks Jascha Heifetz. This holds for every department of the art—particularly for commentators on the air and elsewhere.

Heifetz just had flown on from California and his beloved yawl, the "Galatea," for two appearances at Lewisohn Stadium. The official count said that 31,000 persons heard him, which is more than double the normal capacity of that out-door auditorium.

"Needs Little Knowledge"

"I understand perfectly well why commentators talk so much about music," says the great violinist (many say "greatest"). "They've got time to fill."

"But I think it's dangerous. An audience needs to know only certain basic facts about the music to be played—what it is, who wrote it, the period, perhaps something of the life of the composer and the history of the piece itself."

"So far so good. Unfortunately many commentators go on to say what this important chap thought about the music, and sometimes what the speaker himself thinks the audience should think. This is bad. We ought to let the listener alone, to react directly to the music itself."

Cuts Hands Sailing.

"Most people don't listen anyway. They think they do. But they don't really hear."

Sailing and badminton have occupied the Heifetz summer. Sailing is hard on the Heifetz hands, their owner admits.

"Cut to ribbons. But I'm damned

Jascha Heifetz, violinist, hardens his hands at the tiller of his yawl, the "Galatea."

If I'll wear gloves on the boat." In spite of that, he needed only two weeks to get himself in shape for his summer appearance in New York. He has no set schedule for practice through the summer.

Tolerant of Jazz.

Heifetz is A-1 in musical tolerance. He won't speak unkindly, even of the people who assail the ear with the "fruity," slushy violin tone of the so-called popular musicians.

"There's a market for that, obviously. For my sort of playing too, thank God."

"But I am glad my reputation rests on good music, which nothing seems to be able to kill."

Gains Are Reported On Forest Fires

(By The Associated Press)

An army of men fighting forest fires in seven states reported progress against the flames today.

The damage was most extensive in the north woods of Minnesota and Wisconsin, but forestry officials regarded the crisis as past and hoped for fulfillment of a "possible show-ers" weather forecast.

Authorities in Minnesota and Wisconsin estimated a total of 23,000 men—CCC boys, federal and state workers and a horde of volunteers—were on the front in those states, and hundreds of others struggled with uncounted fires in Michigan, Idaho, Washington, Wyoming and California.

In southwestern Alberta, Canada, the ranch owned by King Edward VIII of England, near Calgary, was out of immediate danger with flames still nine miles away.

The third death blamed directly on forest fires occurred yesterday near Harrington, Wash., when Bert Zink, 53, was crushed by a large tree while fighting a small blaze.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the Board of Health:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Jagger of 66 Van Deusen street, a daughter, Emma Ellen, at Kingston Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond R. Slater of 19 Ann street, a son, William Adam.

G. O. P. Women Begin Tour

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Thirty Republican women of New York started today on a two-day Langdon-Knox motor caravan tour of three upstate counties. Mrs. Charlotte Farrar, director of the women's campaign in New York state, headed the procession of automobiles, which were decorated with Kansas sunflowers. Schoharie and Albany counties were on the caravan's schedule today. Tomorrow the women will meet in Rensselaer county under auspices of the Republican Education League.

Mrs. Savile Tells Of Spanish Horror

London, Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Rupert Savile, wife of a retired British naval officer killed during bombardment of his yacht by a Spanish rebel ship, described the shelling today as "the most terrible moment of my life."

She told her experiences in an interview with the London Daily Mail as she recovered from leg wounds in a hospital at Saint Jean De Luz, France.

"We were sailing off Gijon when the red batteries at the port began firing on us," she said. "We hoped our ensign would be sighted by the battery officers but visibility was poor."

"We turned about toward open sea and were four miles out when we found our vessel was being fired on by the anti-red warship Almirante Cervera. She sent about 50 shells at us."

"We have to but the bombardment went on. Shells were splashing in the water all around me. Then suddenly there was a terrific explosion. A shell had struck the commander's cabin where we were standing."

"I had a terrible glimpse of my husband being swept away from me. I was covered with blood. I jumped forward while the members of the crew looked after my husband. I took charge of the yacht."

"I steered away and reached the outer port of Gijon. The next thing I remember was being tended aboard the British Destroyer Comet."

BROWN STATION

Brown Station, Aug. 11.—Granville Bush on the hill has been making a great many improvements to his home, hard wood floors, large porch, new driveway, electric lights and pump.

Mrs. C. McParlen of Kingston and New York city has opened her cottage, having her daughters and a few friends.
